

All I Can Do Now

I am so glad that Mahanta found me
Searching and seeking how that life could be
I am in ECK so I can now see
To serve It is all I need to be free

Chorus:

“Service to ECK” just what can that be?
Maybe nothing more than being free
Of life’s daily struggles that come from within
May the blessings be and love to all men

I asked the Mahanta, just where do I stand?
Could He give me just a small helping hand?
He said I’m always here, right by your side
Learn some discipline to reach life’s other side

Life’s daily struggles, they come from within
They come because we haven’t learned to love all men
Serving our little self that’s the KAL’S way
But service with Love, that’s the ECK’s way

Now I realize I have always been
In SUGMAD’S dreams the same as all men
So what made me think I was better than them?
Could it be I had not found the Master within?

“Service to ECK” just what can that be?
Maybe nothing more than living free
Of life’s daily struggles that come from within
May the blessings be and love to all men
